

Monday and Tuesday—Last Two Days of the Summer Clean Up

RUMMAGE SALE

The wind-up of the semi-annual clean-up brings the best bargains of the sale—it is the final effort to clear out remainders of summer stocks before the arrival of Fall merchandise.

Some lots are limited, some are sizable. Early comers will profit most. These items are advertised for both Monday and Tuesday, although we cannot guarantee that lots will last through the two days.

GERALDINE FARRAR Mystery Surrounds Telle- gen's Suit, But He Is Called Too Domesticated.

Mystery Surrounds Telle-gen's Suit, But He Is Called Too Domesticated.

Special Dispatch to The Star.
NEW YORK, August 6.—Little of the mystery surrounding the real reasons for the serving of papers on Geraldine Farrar, the Metropolitan Opera House diva, in a suit for separation brought by her actor-husband, Lou Tellegen, was cleared up today, owing to the secrecy which attended the whereabouts of the well known pair.

At Mrs. Farrar's residence, 20 West 74th street, a servant who answered the door bell was instructed to say that her mistress was out of the city. No further information could be obtained despite persistent inquiries.

Tellegen was equally reticent and refused to see any callers or answer the telephone in his room at the Ritz-Carlton, where he registered. Friday night he left the hotel with his secretary after luncheon and had not returned up to a late hour this evening.

Refused to Accept Summons.
At the office of Harry N. Steinfeld, 140 West 42nd street, his representative said that Miss Farrar would not accept the summons. "I have been waiting for her approached by the process server in front of her home. She was accompanied by her parents and a woman friend.
When the paper was thrust into her hand she said, 'I refuse to accept it,' and her mother accepted it for her. The suit will be brought on the grounds of desertion, the attorney is reported to have said, although there will be several other interesting grounds named in the complaint which will be filed in West chester county on the day of the trial.
This is the reason, Mr. Steinfeld says, the papers have not been filed as yet.
Alvin Untermyer, who is representing Mrs. Tellegen, could not be located today, being said at his office, 120 Broadway, that he had gone to Saranac Lake.
He refused to divulge the address of his client before his departure from the city.

Fried on Wife's Nerves.
Gossip along the Rialto has it that Tellegen and the grand opera star, who were married in 1916, have not been getting along together for several months. He is said to have been so domesticated that it preyed on his wife's nerves, and that his recent trip to West End, N. J., ostensibly on a fishing trip, was in reality an enforced vacation. No confirmation could be obtained of this report, owing to the refusal of both parties to make public their contentions.

That he forestalled her in bringing court proceedings is evident by the indignation of her attorney, Mr. Un-termyer, who challenges the motives of the matinee idol in starting action against his client. Tellegen was requested to call at the office of his wife's attorney in order to discuss the breach between them, and in the meantime was forbidden by her lawyer to attempt to see her or to enter the house.

Asks to Get Clothes.
The actor disregarded these admonitions, as was evidenced by his visit to his home and his chauffeur finding a new lock had been installed on the front door, and that his repeated ring for a servant went unanswered, although the movement of a curtain at one of the windows showed the house was tenanted.

Mr. Untermyer stated that Mrs.
Tellegen will bring a counter suit "of perfectly good reasons." He declined to mention the grounds in detail.

Tellegen today requested Mr. Un-termyer to open the Tellegen home to him so he could get his clothing and other personal belongings.

COURSE OPENS FOR BOYS.
200 Members of Clubs Studying Agriculture.
Special Dispatch to The Star.
FREDERICKSBURG, Va., August 6.— The agriculture course of the Northern Virginia boys' clubs has been in session at the Fredericksburg State normal school all this week, with nearly 200 boys present. They range from ten to eighteen years of age and represent the boys clubs of Spotsylvania, King George, Caroline, Essex, Hanover and Loudoun counties.

The school is in charge of Charles G. Burr of Blacksburg, Va., state club agent, with the assistance of C.
A. Montgomery, assistant state agent;
Mr. McGowan, dairy husbandry; Mr.
Boydton, farm engineer; Mr. Dean, poultry husbandry; and Sergt. Bres-nahan, in charge of military training.
All the boys are from the Fredericksburg County area. L. M. Walker, jr., King George; W. F. Perry, Stafford; R. F.
Hobbs, Mr. Caroline; Mr. S. C. Cooley, Essex; Mr. Willis, Loudoun; Mr. Stiles, Hanover, are also present and taking part in the daily program.

Master James Kendrick, son of the state boys' club agent of West Virginia, is present as a visitor.

The classes visited modern fashions nearby, where they were given instructions in stock judging, poultry quitting and rabbit raising.

A big public meeting, to which parents of the boys and others interested were invited, was one of the features of the week.

MASS MEETING AT STAUNTON TO HEAR AIDS EXPLAINED.
Special Dispatch to The Star.
STAUNTON, Va., August 6.—President Wyatt Emberlake of the Lee Highway Association, local branch, has called an open meeting in behalf of the association for next Monday night at the Y. M. C. A. hall, explaining the aims of the association will be fully presented to the public and business men.

The attorney of Luray, a former Staunton attorney, is to address the meeting. Mr. Weaver is now a field agent for the association.

CIVIL WAR VETERANS AT REUNION WHICH
MAY BE THEIR LAST
Special Dispatch to The Star.
ROCKVILLE, Md., August 6.— What will, it is believed, prove the last annual reunion of Ridgely Brown Camp of Confederate Veterans of this county was held in the courthouse here today.

The fifty-five members at one time composing the roster of the organization, death has claimed all but nine, and of these but five were able to answer today's roll call.

They were Rev. J. W. Duffey and Eagar L. Tschiffely, of Rockville; John W. Holland of Dickerson, William F. Bolland of Germantown and Alfred C. Tolson of Coleville.

The other survivors are James H.
Loughborough of Bethesda, George R. Rice of Travilah, Albert Carter of Virginia and J. O. Scaggs of Washington.

A business session was held this morning at which officers were chosen as follows: Commander, Eagar L. Tschiffely; lieutenant commander, George R. Rice; adjutant, John W. Holland; treasurer, Alfred C. Tolson; executive committee, William F. Bolland, Albert Carter and J. O. Scaggs.

Following the business meeting, the annual banquet was held with Commander Tschiffely as host.

The members of Ridgely Brown Camp of Frederick county were invited to the reunion, but word was received from one of the nine survivors that none was physiologically able to make the trip to Rockville.
